MOUNTAIN BIKING Trail Map

Trails on this map are stewarded by the Kennebec Estuary

Before you go: Check kelt.org for up-to-date information. Trails may change, conditions may require closures, hazards may be posted. It's always best to check. Also see wendingmaps.com/map-12

We like dirt.

THE SKINNY

Trails on these maps are open to the public, though most are not public property. Let's exercise proper use, trail courtesy, and respect for land owners' wishes. Always read trailhead kiosks and follow trail signage.

KEEP IT ROLLING

Help ensure these trails continue to be available for us to ride: Join, donate to, and volunteer with the organizations listed on the cover. Help them keep these trails safe and fun.

Also be sure to join and volunteer with your local chapter of the New England Mountain Bike Association, whose mission is to steward the trail systems where we recreate, preserve open space, and promote the best that mountain biking has to offer. Join at nemba.org.

HOW TO BE A COURTEOUS MOUNTAIN BIKER

- Always slow down and yield to pedestrians, equestrians, and skiers—especially seniors and kids. Horses can get spooked and act unpredictably; stop your bike and let them pass, or ask the equestrian how best to proceed.
- People can get spooked too, if they don't know you're there. Let others know you're coming up behind them. A bell-ring or a hello is good. If you've found an appropriate place to pass, let them know, such as "Hi, I'm passing on your left." And don't forget
- Let faster riders pass. It only takes a couple seconds and you'll both be more comfortable.
- Unless otherwise posted, downhill riders yield to uphill riders.
- · When you stop, pull slightly off the trail so others may pass.
- · Leave no trace—no trash, no defacing, no skid marks. Take only pictures.
- · Always read the kiosks. Follow direction there and on trail signs.
- Don't ride trails when they're closed. You'll do damage, give us a bad name, and wreck the trails for everyone.
- Choose not to ride trails that are particularly soft and muddy, even if they're not closed. A good quideline is to let trails dry out a day for each day it rains. When it rains, let it drain.
- · Don't ride unauthorized trails. You'll jeopardize our ability to ride
- Ride the middle line. When you come across a puddle, slowly ride through—not around. If we ride at the edges of trails, they widen and become harder to repair or improve. And don't cut
- · Pitch in. Trail building and maintenance don't happen magically. If you ride it, work on it. For info on volunteering, visit wendingmaps.com.
- Stop and lend a hand when you see a rider with a mechanical issue. Sometimes just having someone hold things is a big help.
- Whether riders, pedestrians, skiers, or equestrians—when groups cross in opposite directions, let the other group know how many riders are behind you, especially if your whole group isn't visible
- Where riding with your dog is permitted, be sure to keep in control at all times. Even a friendly dog hello is not welcomed by
- · When approaching a tricky spot or obstacle that might not be visible to the person behind you, let them know—like, "bridge coming up" or "low branch!"
- When riding at night behind someone with a helmet light, let them know when the indicator signals a low battery (usually yellow or red). It might be time to head back.
- When riding with others, regroup away from homes and refrain from being noisy in populated areas.
- · When with others at night, regroup well away from road crossings. Cars sometimes can't figure out what's going on with multiple lights moving in random directions. Let's not confuse
- When you discover a problem on the trail (bees nest, broken bridge, etc.) take a minute to notify the organization that cares for the trails. You can find a list on wendingmaps.com.
